MRS. DENNIS UNCONSCIOUS. In Opinion of Physicians Her Condition is Very Serious.

Capt. Boardman and Detectives Horne and Hartigan, who have worked hard to solve the mystery surrounding the assault on Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, have reached the conclusion that the victim will die without giving any clue to her assailant. The patient is now wholly unconscious, and to all appearances has but a short time to live. It is true she has been near death's door several times and afterward was ap-parently much better and on the road to recovery. Her paralysis, however, is more pronounced than heretofore, and the patient does not take her nourishment so

During the past few nights she has been restless and somewhat feverish. The twitching of the body has returned, and her general condition indicates a further depression of the brain. It is now nearly six weeks since the assault was committed. The attending physicians received some encouragement from the fact that Mrs. Dennis has held her own for so long a time. Drs. J. Ford Thompson, Wade H. Atkinson and A. B. Hooe were at the hospital today, and Detective Horne was also there. After visiting the sick room the doctors informed the detective that there was practically no change in the condition of the patient during the past two days.

The physicians realize how serious her condition is, and tomorrow they will go over the case and decide what, if anything additional, can be done for her. An operation at this time, they think, would be of no avail. It was stated shortly after the assault was committed that the fracture extended probably to the base of the skull. For such an injury nothing additional could have been done, it is stated, and an operation at this time, the doctors believe, would result disastrously.

While the condition of the injured woman is critical, the doctors would not say this afternoon that she was in immediate danger of death. Unless there is a change for the better by tomorrow her relatives will probably be summoned here from the vicin-ity of Gettysburg.

The Pittsburg Orchestra.

The concert of the Pittsburgh Orchestra next Wednesday afternoon at the Columbia Theater will begin at 4:15 promptly. No one will be seated during the performance of a number. As the Tschalkowsky symphony is first on the program, and the first number takes twelve minutes, the managemem urges all patrons to be in their places promptly. The prog8ram includes the Tschaikowsky "pathetic" symphony in four movements, and three Wagner selections; the prelude from "Lohengrin," wald weben from "Siegfried," and Tannhauser's pligrimage from "Tannhauser." Miss Bridewell, the solist, will sing the contraits aria from "Samson and Delilah," and a group of three German songs. three German songs.

—A severe storm which moved in from the middle Pacific coast is central this morning over the Texas Panhandle, and, in consequence, cloudy weather is general from the slope region eastward, except in the Ohio valley, middle Atlantic states and New England. Thus far the precipitation at-tendant upon this storm has been limited to light rains and snows in the middle slope and southern plateau. The temperatures have risen considerably over the cloudy area, and have again fallen to an average of about 10 degrees below the normal in Atlantic states and lower

The storm will most likely continue al-most due eastward, attended by rain over the southern districts and rain or snow over the northern districts, and by Tuesday afternoon the precipitation will probably extend to the Atlantic coast. Temperatures will rise generally in the east and south. On the middle and south Atlantic coast winds will be fresh northeast to east, and on the east gulf coast fresh east to south. Steamers which depart today for European ports will have fresh northerly winds and fair weather to the Grand Banks.

PERPLEXING QUESTION.

Daughters Unable to Fix Upon Place for a Public Reception. A matter just now exercising the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution is where to hold its annual reception, which is the great society function of the national congress. For three years these receptions have been held in the Corcoran Gallery of Art by special invitation of the board of trustees. This invitation has not been extended this year. One of the prominent members of the organization said today that they could not expect this annually. "We have no mortgage on the Corcoran Gallery," she said, "and while it would be a pleasure to always hold our receptions there, we have no more right to this honor than any other large society or congress that may meet

The national board had about decided to -Making up swell Business Suits, Overcoats hold the reception at the Arlington, but if any member of said metropolitan police or by any other person specially appointed by limited to 2,000, and this the board thinks will be quite impossible. The congress will have nearly 1,000 accredited delegates, with as many alternates, and there will be twice as many D. A. R. badge wearers in the city who should have invitations. The problem is perplaying in the extreme is perplexing in the extreme.

It has been suggested that Convention Hall might be used to advantage and would be none too large to accommodate all the guests, but it is said to be such a "barn of a place" to decorate that the board hesi-tates to consider this place seriously. It is more than probable that the Arlington will be selected. It is thought that 5,000 invitations will scarcely be sufficient, as it is said there is already a tremendous demand

The program, which is to be handsomer that ever before, so the chairman of the committee, Mrs. Sternberg, says, is about completed, and as soon as the matter of the reception is settled will be ready for distribution.

The president general, Mrs. Fairbanks, is much gratified with the showing for the year, as exhibited by the reports of the various officers of the board.

"It has been a peaceful and prosperous year," she said. "We are growing rapidly and the effect of our work it work wide. and the effect of our work is world wide. Every energy is now being exerted for our magnificent Continental Hall, and our plans are working out beautifully."

It is said that one reason for the peace of the year is that the president general understands human nature and uses such consummate finesse in handling delicate matters that the one who gets "turned down" in a two-sided question accepts the situation with a feeling that a favor has been conferred.

Deaths in the District.

The following deaths were reported to the health office during the forty-eight hours ending at noon today: Francina Hoss, 82 years; Honora Bennett, 82 years; Benjamin Harris, 79 years; Charles Koetzner, 78 years; James Lowe McDaniel, 77 years; Herman Hassellbush, 70 years; William A. THE DANGEROUSLY INSANE.

Commissioners Considering Bill Providing for Their Detention. The District Commissioners have received a copy of the bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Gallinger providing for the temporary detention of persons dangerously insane. It is said that under the new code of laws there is some doubt as to the authority of the local police to detain violent lunatics pending a hearing before the court and a writ of commitment to the asylum. The bill that has been introduced by Mr. Gallinger provides the authority that is now believed to be lacking. The bill was prepared by Dr. Hickling of the board of police surgeons. It provides, among other things, "That whenever any reputable person shall file with a justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia holding equity court a petition duly verified by the certificates of two or more physicians alleging that any other person in the District of Columbia is suffering from insanity in such a way as to endanger his own person or property or the person or property of any other or others, and praying that such alleged insane per-son be apprehended and restrained, pending his recovery or the determination of his sanity in the manner provided by law, said justice, if satisfied as to the necessity for such action, shall forthwith issue an order in the name of the President of the United States, directed to the major and superintendent of the metropolitan police of said District, for the apprehension of such alleged insane person and for his detention for such length of time, not exceeding thirty days, as may be specified in said order; and said order may be executed by said court to execute the same.'

When Suffrage Was Allowed in the District. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

The newspaper report of the speech by Mr. Davis before the Business Men's Association represents him as saying that suffrage was first allowed in the District in 1820. This is an error, as section 2 of the first city charter passed by Congress and bearing date May 3, 1802, contains the following provision, viz.:

"The city council to be elected annually by ballot, in a general ticket, by the free white male inhabitants of full age, who have resided twelve months in the city and paid taxes therein the year preceding the elections being held; the justices of the county of Washington, resident in the city, or any three of them, to preside as judges of election, with such associates as the council may from time to time appoint."

Moreover, in the act of cession by Maryland and Virginia, it was expressly provided that all the rights and privileges possessed by the inhabitants of the ceded territory under their state government. ritory under their state governments should be continued until such time as Congress might establish a government for the Dis-trict, and as they then possessed the right of suffrage it was continued and exercised in the election of the local officers, both in the city and county, and there never was a break in it until the passage of the act of 1878. It is true, however, that the mayor of the city of Washington was appointed by the President down to 1820, when the law was changed to authorize his election. Even before the adoption of the Constitution this matter of home rule in local affairs by the citizens of the District was discussed in the Federalist, in which Madison said: "A municipal legislature for local purposes, derived from their own suffrages, will, of course, be allowed them." and as of course, be allowed them," and, as stated by Mr. Huger of South Carolina in "He looked forward to the period when the inhabitants from their number and riches would be entitled to a representative

In view, however, of the growth of the nation as compared with that of the District and the changed conditions at the present time, I think that the right of suffrage and of a local government, based on the suffrage of the citizens of the District may well be abandoned if Congress will only adopt the plan suggested by Senator Hoar in March last, and which is, that the citizens should pay a reasonable tax on all the property they own, and that whatever else is required should be paid by the general government, which has a time. eral government, which has entire control of the whole matter—a proposition so just and equitable that it would seem that no human being can object to it. W. C. DODGE.

SUIT AGAINST A BANK.

Mrs. Stuart Wants $5,000 Damages for Loss of Bonds. Hearing was begun today before Justice Clabaugh and a jury in Circuit Court No. 2 of the suit at law instituted by Mrs. Henrietta Stuart against the Washington Savings Bank to recover $5,000. According to Mrs. Stuart, early in 1898 she rented a safe deposit box at the establishment of the defendant and placed therein three coupon bonds of the United States, each of the face value of $1,000, the three being worth $5,000. Through carelessness on the part of the bank, it is charged by the plaintiff, the bonds were lost to her about the 1st of May, 1898. BLACK AND RICH

A liquid food that will help a person break bad habit is worth knowing of. The president of one of the state associations of the W. C. T. U., who naturally does not want her name given, writes as follows: "Whenever I was obliged to go without coffee for breakfast a dull, distracting headache would come on before noon. I discovered that, in reality, the nerves were crying out for their accustomed stimulant. "At evening dinner I had been taught by experience that I must refrain from coffee or pass a sleepless night. In the summer of 1900, while visiting a physician and his wife, I was served with a most excellent coffee at their dainty and elegant table and, upon inquiry, discovered that this charming beverage was Postum Food Coffee, and that the family had been greatly benefited by leaving off coffee and using Postum.

lesving off coffee and using Postum.

"I was so in love with it, and so pleased with the glimpae of freedom from my one bondage of habit, and so thoroughly convinced that I ought to break with my captor, that upon my return home I at once began the use of Postum Food Coffee and have continued it ever since, now more than a year.

"I don't know what sick headache is now, and my nerves are steady and I sleep sound generally eight hours regularly. I used to become billous frequently and require physic, now seldom ever have that experience.

"I have learned that long boiling is absolutely essential to furnish good Postum. That makes it clear, black and rich as any Mocha and Java blend. Please withhold my name, but you may
